The Progressive Drawing now stands at $500

You must be an ASCM Colorado Chapter member and be present to be a potential winner.

Agentic AI 101 for Supply Chain & The Human Side of AI.

This presentation provides a practical introduction to Agentic AI and what it means for modern supply chains. Using real-world supply chain examples and case studies, we'll show what types of problems AI agents are well suited to solve (and which ones they are not). We'll also illustrate how agents operate across planning, procurement, operations, and supplier workflows. Participants will leave with a practical way to identify high-value supply chain use cases and assess where Agentic AI can have the greatest impact.

Participants will then participate in guided roundtable discussions, exploring the implications of AI adoption, beyond the technology itself. What does AI mean for team structures, roles, and capacity - including how businesses should think about hiring, reskilling, and redeploying talent, and how universities should think about curricula as automation increases. The discussion will address common fears around AI, how to talk about AI internally, and how to bring teams along without resistance or uncertainty. We'll also examine how AI can improve job satisfaction by removing low-value, repetitive work, allowing teams to focus on higher-impact initiatives.

Speaker Profile: Tim Spencer

Tim Spencer is co-founder and CEO at Didero. He previously founded e-commerce provider Markai, and consulted to Fortune 500 companies while at BCG. He holds degrees from Stanford and NYU.

About Didero

Didero is a Stanford-founded technology company building advanced AI agents to automate complex, high-volume supply chain and procurement operations, putting key source-to-pay workflows on autopilot. The company has raised more than $30M from several of Silicon Valley's most prominent VC funds and institutional investors, including Microsoft.

Coach's Corner

I hope all of you are enjoying life and enjoying Spring in Colorado. Our Colorado ASCM year is winding down, this is the last Newsletter until August 2026.

Our May PDM will be held May 13, 2026 at the Downtown Aquarium. This is the last PDM of our year, the next PDM will be September. This will be a great event, celebrating another great year for Colorado ASCM and Supply Chain Management. Our meeting will be at 5:30 for registration but the meeting comes with tickets to the Aquarium so come early and tour the Aquarium museum. You can come as early as 3:30 pm!

Our May Meeting will be in person and virtual, Tim Spencer speaking about Artificial Intelligence for Supply Chain Professionals. We will also have a June networking evening planned with food and drink at the Arvada Schoolhouse on June 24th. In July we will have our traditional virtual Colorado Chapter Town Hall update.

At our May Professional Development meeting we will elect our Board of Directors that were slated for the ASCM Colorado 2026-2027 year.

Please join me in thanking all of our current Board of Directors for a job well done again this year! They all did a GREAT Job!

The slate of officers up for election are as follows:

President & Coach: Roger Harris

VP of Programs: (Interim-Roger Harris)

Secretary: Jamie Swan

VP of Professional Development: Honey Johnson

VP of Membership: Jerry McQuie

Treasurer: Gary Williams

I hope that this year you enjoyed the Colorado ASCM PDM's, Networking Events, and Courses. Feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns. I hope that you all have a GREAT Summer and I hope to see a lot of you at one of the upcoming events! Thank you for being part of our Colorado ASCM Chapter!

Education News

Welcome May flowers, warm weather, much sunshine and I am certainly ready! As we head into the last days of spring and welcome summer in a few weeks, our spring education programs are winding down and we will take a few weeks off from classes for a summer break.

If you were not able to attend classes recently, don't despair! We will begin a full slate of APICS certification classes in the Fall as well as schedule another opportunity to attend our Sales & Operations Planning education course. Watch for the Fall 2026 course details near the end of summer when schedules and registration information will be published.

Trying to go it alone? Preparing for APICS exams can be daunting when you are self-studying. Each year we have folks turn to our Colorado Chapter instructor-led courses to help guide them through the volume of information, terminology and concepts that can be overwhelming to understand on your own.

As we wrap up this fiscal year, I would like to take a moment to recognize and sincerely thank our outstanding Colorado Chapter instructors! This past year we have held public and private classes, with students located across the U.S. and some internationally. Our Colorado ASCM/APICS Education programs would not be the recognized success that they are without the talented individuals who share their vast supply chain expertise, wisdom and real-world experiences that make a significant difference helping students learn and retain course information. Our Colorado Chapter continues to have significantly higher than average pass rates! I would like to especially thank Roger Harris, who continues to be instrumental in the classroom and behind the scenes helping to provide outstanding Education experience for our students!

I always enjoy celebrating success with our students as they earn their APICS certifications! When you have achieved your APICS certification, we are happy to recognize your hard work! Register for and attend one of our Colorado Chapter monthly professional development meetings so we can congratulate you as a new CPIM, CSCP, CLTD or CTSC certified professional. U.S. based students will receive a lapel pin as well as a $100 reward! Woohoo! I look forward to recognizing more newly certified folks in the coming months!

As always, please contact me if you have questions regarding APICS Education. Enjoy your summer! I look forward to seeing you in the Fall.

Best Regards,

Honey Johnson

What are Students saying about APICS Education in Colorado?

"Taking the Colorado Chapter ASCM CPIM course in Spring 2024 was instrumental to my passing the CPIM exam. Honey and Roger spent hours imparting their wealth of knowledge while encouraging open discussions and bringing in real world examples to ensure we understood the material. Their insights were genuinely helpful and I would encourage anyone pursuing their CPIM certification (or another ASCM certification) to take this course. I can't recommend it enough!"

Molly Mahaney, CPIM, Master Supply Planning Manager, Ball Corporation

"I signed up for the CSCP course at the end of May where I was going to study on my own and later take the test when I felt ready. As I read about the weekly class, I was a little hesitant at first, but I'm so glad I enrolled in the course held by the Colorado ASCM Chapter. I started at the end of July and took it weekly through November. The class was intuitive, stimulating and I can honestly say it helped me to pass the CSCP exam by December. I highly recommend the class to any aspiring CSCP professional!"

Anabelen Mendoza, CSCP, JBS USA, International Documentation Specialist

"I began working toward obtaining my CPIM soon after beginning my career in manufacturing. Everything I have learned from APICS/ASCM has elevated my effectiveness in my job, even before I received the certification. The classes I attended with Colorado Chapter 81 were especially additive in my education, analogizing the often-difficult study concepts to real-world, recognizable organizations and scenarios. If your career has anything to do with supply chains, production, quality, purchasing, etc., you cannot go wrong with CPIM."

Jason Rhine, CPIM, Production Planner, Gogo Business Aviation

"I came into the Colorado ASCM Chapter's CSCP course to expand my Supply Chain knowledge after several years in Distribution for CooperVision. It was made very clear to us that course would cover a wide range of Supply Chain topics and take a lot of work and effort from us as students. This was true but the course was very rewarding. We had a large group with a wide and varied background in the organisation and we found that this led to some high value interactions on subjects throughout the course. I've been able to utilise the knowledge in my role as some of my own team also took the course at the same time. This in turn expanded and improved my knowledge and understanding of subject matter. I plan to use the qualification and knowledge in my continuing work managing Supply Chain processes.

David Bowers, CSCP, Global Logistics Process Manager, CooperVision UK

Membership

We asked Copilot... 'How can professional membership help your team, and help your company grow'

How Professional Memberships Accelerate Team Excellence from Day One

In today's fast-moving business environment, leaders need teams who can contribute immediately, grow continuously, and stay ahead of industry change. One of the most effective — and often underutilized — tools for achieving this is professional membership in organizations such as the Association for Supply Chain Management (ASCM). These memberships act as an extension of a company's learning and development strategy, providing resources and community at a scale no single organization can build alone.

Accelerating Professional Growth

Professional associations offer structured, high-quality learning that helps employees build capability from their first day on the job. ASCM, for example, provides access to expert-led webinars, microlearning modules, foundational courses, and certification pathways that reinforce critical supply chain competencies. This ensures that team members are not only equipped with essential knowledge but are continually exposed to emerging best practices and evolving industry standards. The result is a workforce that is confident, capable, and ready to contribute immediately.

Strengthening Networks and Collaboration

Membership also connects employees to a global community of practitioners. Through discussion groups, mentoring programs, local chapters, and industry events, team members gain exposure to diverse perspectives and real-world problem solving. These networks foster collaboration, spark innovation, and help employees develop the professional relationships that are essential for long-term career success. For leaders, this means a team that brings in fresh ideas, broader insights, and a more strategic mindset.

Staying Informed on Industry Trends

In a discipline as dynamic as supply chain management, staying informed is a competitive advantage. Professional organizations provide timely research, trend reports, thought leadership, and curated news that keep teams aware of what's changing — and what's coming next. ASCM's annual trend analyses, research studies, and industry insights help employees anticipate shifts, identify opportunities, and make better decisions. This transforms your team into an internal radar system, capable of spotting risks and innovations early.

Creating Organizational Impact

When adopted at scale, professional memberships can become a powerful organizational asset. Corporate membership models offer expanded access to learning, leadership roundtables, benchmarking opportunities, and strategic insights tailored to company goals. This creates a unified language, shared frameworks, and a culture of continuous improvement across the entire team.

A Strategic Investment in Excellence

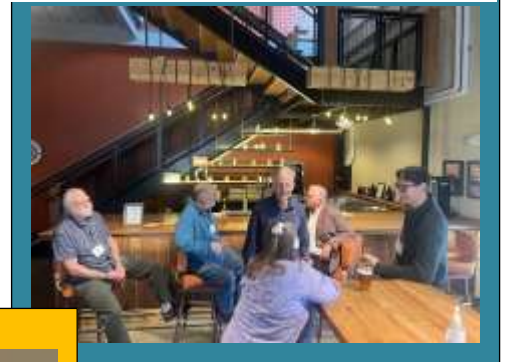

Professional memberships are more than a perk — they are a strategic investment in workforce capability, engagement, and readiness. By giving employees access to world-class learning, a global network, and real-time industry intelligence, leaders can ensure their teams excel from day one and continue to grow throughout their careers. In a world where talent development is a competitive differentiator, organizations that leverage professional associations position themselves — and their people — for long-term success.
